In the first quarter of 2019, the growth has slowed down globally and the downward pressure on China's economy still exists. According to the prediction of the authoritative organizations to the world's major economies, the growth of the US economy will slow down in 2019, however, the economic fundamentals will still be solid. The Eurozone economy will also continue to be depressed. In 2019, the economic growth of emerging market countries will decline slightly. The economic growth of China will continue to slow down in 2019, and the tariff issues with the US will also affect its economic growth. The government has adopted a series of monetary and financial measures to support the economy, and is still committed to maintaining a 6% economic growth bottom line. With the gradual reflection of the supply-side reform results and the continuous progress of Sino-US trade negotiations, China's economy achieved a smooth start in the first quarter of the year.

During the Reporting Period, the Group's revenue amounted to RMB19.100 billion (same period of last year: RMB19.254 billion), representing a year-on-year decrease of 0.80%. Net profit attributable to shareholders and other equity holders of the parent company was RMB406 million (same period of last year: RMB446 million), representing a year-on-year decrease of 9.10%. Basic earnings per share amounted to RMB0.1191 per share (same period of last year: RMB0.1409 per share), representing a year-on-year decrease of 15.47%. For the details of the operation of the Group's business, please refer to the follows:

In the first quarter of 2019, according to the prediction of CLARKSON, an authoritative shipping research institution, the growth rate of the global container trade is expected to be 4.0% in 2019, down from 4.3% in 2018. In addition, the container production and sales volume in the first quarter of 2018 was at a high level, therefore, in the first quarter of 2019, there was a year-on-year decrease in both sales volume and revenue of the Group's container manufacturing business: the accumulated sales volume of dry containers reached 229,900 TEUs (same period of last year: 351,900 TEUs), representing a year-on-year decrease of approximately 34.67%; the accumulated sales volume of reefer containers reached 32,600 TEUs (same period of last year: 41,400 TEUs), representing a year-on-year decrease of approximately 21.26%; the container manufacturing business recorded a revenue of RMB5.220 billion (same period of last year: RMB7.261 billion), representing a year-on-year decrease of 28.10%.

In the first quarter of 2019, as for the domestic market, the demand for construction vehicles increased due to the stable growth of infrastructure fixed assets investment and the upgrading needs of construction vehicles; as for the overseas markets, the US economy showed a strong growth, the demand for dry cargo trucks and refrigerated trucks has grown significantly; the overall economy of Europe has shown satisfactory performance and the swap body products has commenced mass delivery; increased uncertainty in emerging markets resulted in increased political and financial risks in certain regions. During the Reporting Period, the road transportation vehicle business of the Group overcame the adverse effects of the appreciation of RMB against the US dollar due to the growth of the construction vehicle market in the PRC and the logistics vehicle market in North America, both of its revenue and net profit grew remarkably during the Reporting Period as compared with the same period of last year.

In the first quarter of 2019, benefiting from the demand for sustainable development around the world and the impact of the Chinese government's continuous promotion of LNG (liquefied natural gas) application, the market demand for the energy, chemical environment and liquid food segment of the Group remained strong. During the Reporting Period, the energy, chemical environment and liquid food business of the Group recorded a sales revenue of RMB3.147 billion (same period of last year: RMB2.877 billion), representing a year-on-year increase of 9.38%.

In the first quarter of 2019, the Group's offshore engineering business recorded a revenue of RMB692 million (same period of last year: RMB303 million), representing a year-on-year increase of 128.60%. In respect of construction projects: the sectional construction of Petrobras' FPSO (floating production storage and offloading unit) project has completed the launching and has begun the outfitting work; in March 2019, the ultra-deep water drilling platform "Blue Whale No. 1" developed and built by CIMC Raffles Offshore (Singapore) Limited. (a subsidiary of the Group, "____ stepped forward to South China Sea to execute the oilfield lease. In respect of new orders: in February 2019, CIMC Raffles entered into a strategic cooperation agreement and a construction contract for 1 + 1 Antarctic krill ship with Aker Group, the largest industrial investment company in Norway; in February 2019, CIMC Raffles entered into a contract for Y-TYPE semi-submersible ship with a Dutch ship-owner; in March 2019, CIMC Raffles entered into an engineering procurement construction contract for jack-up accommodation platform with British Petroleum p.l.c. (BP); in March 2019, CIMC Raffles and Odfjell Drilling (a Norwegian company) jointly obtained a GM4-D#2 drilling service contract. The total contract amount of the above new orders is US$288 million.

In the first quarter of 2019, the Group's airport facilities equipment business recorded a revenue of RMB778 million (same period of last year: RMB569 million), representing a year-on-year increase of 36.82%. In particular: (1) Airport facilities equipment business: the international market share continues to increase, while the domestic market has been steadily deepened. The research and development of the smart boarding bridges was carried out in an orderly manner, and the on-bridge air conditioners and other ancillary products for boarding bridges steadily improved in terms of the sales revenue and market share with the help of the airport related business. In terms of GSE (ground support equipment) business, our shuttle buses continued to maintain its leading position in the industry, and the revenue and profit of platform vehicles continued to increase. (2) Fire and rescue vehicle business: the business continued to improve the double-dimension development strategy of both product lines and geographical coverage. Albert Ziegler GmbH (a subsidiary of the Group, ", 🚅 ") made up for its weakness in special chassis for airport fire trucks, aerial lift trucks and ladder trucks and other product lines and enhanced the product competitiveness in all aspects through measures such as merger and acquisition, shareholding increase, business cooperation and other initiatives. In domestic market, the fire and rescue vehicle business achieved steady growth. Moreover, the Group continued to optimize and innovate the integrated solution for lease of fire trucks, provided high to low-end full range of fire-fighting equipment, and launched the new model of "equipment + service + finance" and promoted nationwide. (3) Automated logistics systems business: following the fundamental turnaround in its profitability in 2018, the segment continued to maintain a good growth trend, the self-developed sorting machines and the first smart travel inspection system in China are facing a broader marketing trend. (4) Smart parking equipment business: during the Reporting Period, the self-developed and the first pilot project of "mechanical smart multi-storey public bus parking garage" in the industry was in progress steadily, significantly enhancing the intensification of the land and having large market capacity.

In the first quarter of 2019, in respect of the heavy truck	s' niche market, the sales volume of

In the first quarter of 2019, the Group's financial business achieved a revenue of RMB450 million (same period of last year: RMB515 million), representing a slight year-on-year decrease of 12.57%. CIMC Finance Company focused on the annual operating philosophy of "providing quality services, keeping bottom line, optimisation and improvement, achieving quality growth", further enhanced its financial service capability and proactively explored customers' financial needs on the basis of continuous strengthening the centralized global capital management of the Group. CIMC Finance Company also formulated special financial service solutions based on the characteristics of industrial development, strived to expand the buyer's credit business and enhanced the comprehensive competitiveness of the Group. In the first guarter of 2019, the new financial investment in total exceeded RMB2.200 billion, which effectively improved the Group's capital management efficiency and effectiveness. CIMC Financial Leasing Company adhered to the strategy of "the integration of industry and finance 2.0", established its operation models by setting up specialised subsidiaries and continued to deepen business synergy and financial synergy with the Group's business segments, so as to provide the Group's strategic customers with an integrated solution of "equipment + service + finance". At the same time, CIMC Financial Leasing Company will further improve the systems for risk management and control and asset management, optimise customer group structure and improve asset quality. In the first quarter of 2019, the investment in new business was in line with expectations, and achieved a steady start.

Risk analysis and positions in derivatives during the Reporting Period and explanations of risk control measures (including but not limited to market risk, liquidity risk, credit risk, operation risk and law risk etc.) As of 31 March 2019, the derivative financial instruments held by the Group were mainly foreign exchange forwards, interest rate swap, foreign exchange options and currency swap contracts. The risks of interest rate swap contracts were closely related to the fluctuations of interest rate. The risks carried by foreign exchange forwards were connected with the market risks relating to exchange rates and the Group's cash flow certainty of foreign currency revenues in the future. The Group's control on the derivative financial instruments was mainly reflected in: making prudent selection and determination on the type and quantity of newly-added derivative financial instruments; as to derivatives transactions, the Group developed rigorous internal approval systems and operational processes, and clarified the approval and authorisation procedures for all levels involved, so as to control the associated risks.

Changes in market prices or product fair values of derivatives invested during the Reporting Period, where specific methods and relevant assumptions and parameters used shall be disclosed in the analysis of fair values of derivatives Explanations of any significant changes in the Company's accounting policies and specific accounting principles on derivatives between the Reporting Period and the last

No

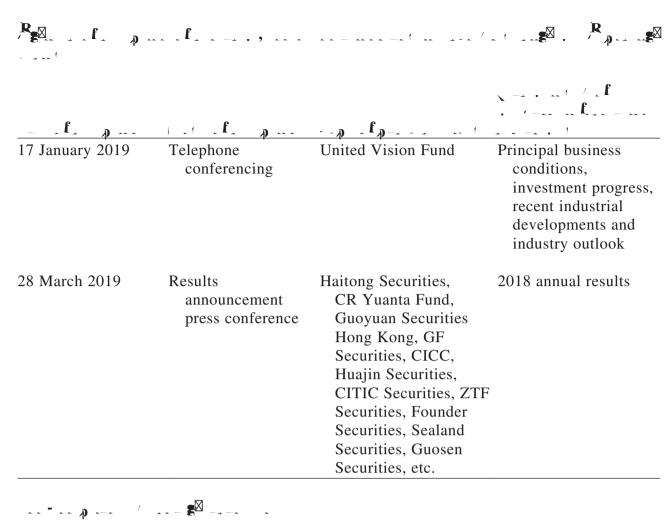

From January to March 2019, the Group's profit or loss arising from changes in fair values of the derivative financial instruments was RMB(56,456,000).

Fair values of the derivative financial instruments of the Group were determined based on market prices of external financial institutions.

Specific opinions of independent directors on the derivatives investments and risk controls of the Company

reporting period

The Company invested in exchange rate and interest rate derivatives for the purpose of the day-to-day international business operations of the Company in order to smooth or lower the uncertainty impact on the operations of the Company due to the change in exchange rates and interest rates while adhering to the fundamental principle of value-preserving and prohibiting speculative transaction. The Company has attached great importance and continuously enhanced the management of exchange rate and interest rate derivative transactions as well as developed and continuously improved relevant management systems. The related approval process is compliant with the requirements of the laws and regulations and without prejudice to the interests of the Company and the shareholders, in particular, the minority shareholders.

 $\square$  Applicable  $\sqrt{\text{Not applicable}}$

The Company did not make any non-compliant external guarantees during the Reporting Period.
